«Philadelphia» Thanks E. (P.) N. for a shipment of East India Society publications and other material, which he handed on to Lucretia Mott and others. Comments on the role of the moral influence of Great Britain in the extinction of Slavery. Compares the French and British attitudes toward Slavery in the West Indies. Thinks the French terms of emancipation are unsatisfactory. "I have read O'Connell's appeal to the Anti-Slavery people of your country." Sends copies of a work on Texas by Benjamin Lundy. Texas claims to be opposed to the foreign slave trade, which is still carried on in Cuba. It has become customary to say that a criminal still at large some time after the c[illegible]sion of a crime "has gone to Texas." Some free negroes [illegible]tly emigrated to Trinidad. Dissension in Abolitionist ranks is caused partly by disagreement as to the advocacy of human rights.

[Philadelphia] Sends a copy of William Jay's remarks on Slavery. Directed it to E. (P.) N., care of Coates & Co., but is not sure whether this is the best way of sending it. Is waiting to hear the latest opinions on Slavery of T. F. Buxton. The Colonizationists are making use of his earlier views. J. J. Gurney has given $200 for the purpose of republishing Buxton's writings. East Indian reform would benefit Great Britain, and might enable Indian cotton to drive some American cotton off the market. The advance of the Anti-Slavery cause has been enough to prevent H. Clay from being nominated for President. Our political men say there is a great danger of a war between G. Britain & the United States." Doubts if the substitution of Indian cotton for American cotton would prove to the slaveholder the sinfulness of Slavery. Was surprised to learn that wealthy people in England were not Abolitionists. [Philadelphia] The Liberty Bell arrived four hours before the closing of the (Philadelphia) fair, at which they made upwards of $750. .Philadelphia. The writer tells of the success of his paper (the Pennsylvania Freeman?) "What are your prospects for the Standard in May? ... I have taken my passage for Liverpool in a Boston steamer..." Wants letters of introduction. Has heard that the Third Party group intends to employ G(eorge) Bradburn as editor of their paper. Discusses their difficulties. Heard that the number of subscribers to the National Anti-Slavery Standard has decreased greatly, and comments on the reduced circulation of Anti-Slavery newspapers generally. Gives his views on the future of New Organization newspapers. Is much interested in the St[illegible]ard.

«Philadelphia» Discusses the National A.S. Standard. The writer would bring the price down to $1, favors omitting advertisements, and reducing the size. Agrees with the addressee that noone could do so well as Sydney Howard Gay in his place. Gay's only fault apparent in the paper is "snapishness." Gives directions for letters of introduction (to individuals in England).

A.L.S. 4 p. 10 x 8 in.

In a postscript the addressee is requested to ask George Thompson if he would give the writer letters of introduction to friends in Paris or Lyons.

«Philadelphia» The addressee would have heard sooner from the writer if he had had any intention of "exposing" himself in the ~~Liberator~~ Liberty Bell or had"been able to induce mother (Mrs. Lucretia Mott) to add an article to it." The writer notices what the addressee says "about that vulgar & unprincipled«d» print the Chronotype." They have had no tidings from Garrison, hence infer that he is growing better. "We are busy with our Conventions - which are the best ever held in this region." The fair opens this evening (the 15th) and "promises to be full & attractive." A tract will soon be issued as no.2.

To Anne Warren Weston

.Philadelphia. The writer replies to an inquiry about the raising of money "to carry out the plan ... in reference to G. Thompson," by saying that, in the absence of J. M. McKim, it is very hard to keep his organization in proper working order. Does not think it would be advisable to invite G. Thompson to the United States. «Salem (Mass.)» In reply to the addressee's invitation to furnish a Salem table for the Boston fair, the writer explains that the women concerned "all have hearts that would gladly do it," but have neither the means nor the time necessary for it. Some think that as much would be gained by "keeping quietly to our Salem Fair," and that they can appropriate their money in the right way, acting "independently of 'Friend Torrey'."

Garrison is to speak here tomorrow. The writer commends her friend Mrs. Clarissa Lawrence, delegate to the Philadelphia Convention, to the attention of the addressee.

Dearborn, Henry, 1751-1829.

Journal kept by Capt. Henry Dearborne, of the proceedings, and particular occurrences, which happened within my knowledge to the troops, under the command of Colonel Bennedicte Arnold, in the year 1775 which troops were detached from the American army lying before the town of Boston, for the purpose of marching to, and taking possession of Quebec. [From Sept. 10, 1775 to July 16, 1776.] Also, diary from July 25, 1776 to Dec. 4, 1777. (28) ff.

A printed copy may be found on *4314.128 and *4314.130
Contains also a few notes covering the time from July 25, 1776, to August 3, 1777, and a diary from August 3 to December 4, 1777. During this ti[illegible]Gen. Dearborn was in New York state. The journal of the [illegible]c expedition was apparently written out by a professiona[illegible]opyist, after the events, and only the notes of July 25, 1776, to Aug. 3, 1777, seem to be in Dearborn's own hand.
